Home Technology: How to Make it Profitable

Wednesday, December 10, 2008
8:00 – 10:00 am
BAGB Classroom
700 Congress Street, Suite 203, Quincy, MA 02169

Presented by Advanced Communication Technologies

This presentation will discuss custom electronic systems and how builders can successfully and profitably offer these options to their clients. Specifically, the session will explain what a systems integrator is and offer an overview of home technology options. Attendees will learn the benefits of offering home technology and how to boost revenue by partnering with an integrator, especially in a down market. The presentation will cover how to choose a construction savvy integrator that will help ensure a project runs smoothly. Finally, there will be a brief discussion on how homes can be “future-proofed” to accommodate present and future technology. Presented by Paul Diggin, CCPD.

Coffee and bagels will be provided. The cost is $30 for BAGB members and $50 for non-members. To register, please call BAGB at 617-773-1300.
